ACH Group | Health & Wellness Precinct

ACH Group, a South Australian not for profit aged care service provider, is developing a new Health and Wellness Precinct next to the Lyell McEwin Hospital in northern Adelaide.

It's important that the community who will use the space is involved in the design of open areas and buildings, and have a say in the services that will be offered. This is your opportunity to help shape what the physical space and services may be. Are you interested in joining this project?
